The Potter Committee.

By Telegraph to the News.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Messrs. Potter and Hiscock, of the Potter Committee, examined John D. Palmer today, who testified regarding his work as chairman of the visiting committee. He had conversations with many colored people and found from some of them that many parishes had been greatly disturbed. Their school money had been used up, and Democratic politicians made many promises to get them to vote the Democratic ticket. The witness said Nicholls had obtained the respect of the colored people of Louisiana, more than any Governor he knew of, and more than Packard. The witness was present at the sessions of the returning board, all of them that were open. The plan of the board was to lay aside all disputed parishes and take up undisputed ones.

On the 28th of November, the witness asked the board when the returns from any parish were polled that he be given the result, but they would not do so until they were all completed. He protests that they were entered after the returns were filed, the Democrats claimed that they should not be considered. Packard filed a protest which embraced sixteen parishes. The witness asked permission from Governor Wells to enter the compiling room. The winess thought some Republicans had access to that room. He thought he saw Mr. Hale coming out of there. There were severe ineffectual complaints made to the board about the manner in which the proceedings were carried on. The Republican visiting statesmen were seen by the witness often. They were generally at the returning board when the witness was. He had heard Mr. Archer say that Judge Levissee had stated that the election was a fraud and if he could have a hundred thonsand dollars he would vote for Tilden.

Mexican Matters.

By Telegraph to the News.

GALVESTON, TEXAS, July 28.—The News' Fort Clark special says, last night Mexicans from Los Vacos, Neade county, fired shots in San Felipe, Texas, retaliating for having been pursued the day before by Capt. Kelly, of the United States army, who took from them some stolen stock. There is great excitement. Parson Potter, of frontier fame, shot and wounded a Mexican last night while in the act of stealing his horses. Escobedo is condemned to be shot, but this will not give peace on the borders.

The Debate on England's Eastern Policy.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, July 29.—The debate on Lord Hartington's resolution against the government's Eastern policy, which begins to-night in the House of Commons, is regarded as the most important which has taken place in Parliament for many years.

The Times, discussing that part of Hartington's resolution relating to British guarantees respecting Asiatic-Turkey, says: There is room for contention, that Hartington's censure of the treaty is either too little or too much. If the ministry have involved the country unnecessarily in liabilities of so grave a character, the opposition ought to be prepared to express something more than regret. They ought to be ready to turn out the expouents to take office themselves, and reverse the polity to which the country stands committed. If they are not prepared for such decided course, then they ought to leave the government unweakened to carry into effect the settlement of which it has laid the basis. In certain cases it is desirable that the government should act on its responsibility. At all events the main issue of the debate will not turn on this point. The real question on which the House have to decide is, whether in the permanent interests of the British Empire it was desirable to say distinctly to Russia, "thus far shalt thou go, but no farther."

LONDON, July 29.—Lord Hartington is speaking on his resolution which was moved this evening. He said a very inadequate idea of the treaty of Berlin was to be derived from the mere contrast of its provisions with those of the treaty of San Stefano. Russia, previous to the war, made demands which did not go anything like so far as the treaty of Berlin, yet England never approved them nor urged them upon Turkey. He said he did not make a serious charge against the government regarding Greece, as the other governments shared the responsibility, but the British government had incurred special responsibility in the promises given to Greece which had not been fulfilled.

LONDON, July 29.—Bogardus' score to day in the pigeon shooting match with Shelley, is the highest ever made in England.

Advance of the Austrians Into Bosnia.

LONDON, July 29—A Vienna dispatch states that the advance into Bosnia has not yet been ordered. Caratheodori Pasha told Andrassy, the paragraph of the proclamation to the inhabitants declaring the Sultan commits them to the protection of the Austrian Emperor would probably be the subject of protest. JOHNSTON COUNTY.

Close of the Canvass---No Opposition to the Democratic Ticket---Judge Cox.

Correspondence of the News.

SMITHFIELD, July 29.

The Democracy of Johnston county is arrayed in solid phalaux, battling for good honest government. For the first time since the war the Democratic party of this staunch county has no opposition—the Republicans having no ticket in the field, the only opposition to the regular Democratic ticket being for Clerk of the Superior Court, and the opposition candidate for this office does not stand the shadow of a chance for election.

A VIGOROUS CANVASS.

Notwithstanding that there is no opposition, the candidates have made a vigorous canvass of the county, and at all points of speaking large and enthusiastic crowds were in attendance, to hear the speeches of the noble standard bearers of Democracy. Messrs. Waddell, candidate for the Senate, and Holt and Bizzell for the House, have acquitted themselves handsomely, making forcible and telling speeches, thoroughly ventilating the misrule of the Republican party, wherever it has been in power.

The campaign closed to-day at this point with great enthusiasm, by the large and attentive audience, consisting of five hundred persons, which turned out to do honor to the Democratic party.

JUDGE W. R. COX,

addressed the audience for an hour, in an able and forcible speech, in which he asked "How the Democratic party fulfilled its promises?" He proceeded to show that it had, that it was the party of reform; that it had reduced the expenses of the State Government in the salary of judges twelve thousand five hundred dollars annually, and saved between $5,000 and $6,000, in the mode of settling of Sheriffs with the State Auditor, and saved over $50,000 annually in reduction of legislative expenses; and that the National Democratic party had, during the past three years, reduced the expenses of the United States, in the item alone of salaries of ministers and consuls, over eighty-five millions; that North Carolina, being an agricultural State, paid an undue proportion of taxes to sustain the general government, and that the greatest contest in the future control of the government would be between the bondholders and the producers of the country.

Judge Cox elaborated on these points, and presented them forcibly to his audience. His speech was well received by his hearers, and added to his already great reputation in Johnston.

THE INTERNAL REVENUE.

Comparative Statement of Returns for 1877 and 1878---A Falling off of Nearly $8,000,000.

New York Tribune.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has just completed the tabular statement showing the comparison between the returns of 1877 and 1878. During the past thirty days, owing to a decided improvement in all branches of trade since Congress adjourned, revenue receipts have very much exceeded those for the same period of last year; but the total decrease in the revenue, as appears from the table, is $7,906,864.34, distributed in the following manner; In spirits there has been a reduction of $7,044,758.28, representing a falling off of 7,839,201 gallons. This is partly offset by an increase of $35,504.17 in the receipts from the special tax on retail dealers, and increase of $2,291.90 in the sale of stamps for distiled spirits intented for export. The tobacco returns show a small decrease in the $5 per 1,000 tax on cigars and cheroots, and an increase of $642,477.80 in the $6 per 1,000 tax, the latter indicating an increased consumption of 105,412,967 cigars during the past year. There appears an increase of $28,600.84 in the revenue from the sale of cigarettes, indicating an increase in consumption of over 16,000,000. The snuff receipts decrease $31,981.30, showing a falling off of 99,941 pounds. Chewing tobacco shows a great decline. Under the 24 cent tax the revenue has gone down $1,739,128.38, with a corresponding decrease in quantity of 7,246,368 pounds. The special tax of $5 on all dealers in manufactured tobacco increases $542,-252.61. Fermented liquors, embracing beer, ale, lager beer and porter, help to compensate for the reduction of $1,022,016.24, the aggregate loss from special and regular tax on the class of manufactured tobacco. The tax of one 24th of 1 per cent. on bank deposits yields, $262,833.90 less than in 1877, while the tax per month on bank capital and bank circulation increases the loss under this head to $337,697.48.

There is an increase of $191,370.18 in the total collection not otherwise provided for, embracing the tax on legacies and succesions, and the taxes on railroad dividends and corporations, all of which are now exempt, but were not paid in when due. On the two articles of spirits and tobacco, the following comparison between the leading cities is made:

	Tobacco.	Spirits.
New York	$4,001,067 98	$ 250,730 37
St. Louis	1,564,467 58	2,127,482 36

Philadelphia	905,4 6 85	365,269 02
Baltimore	1,-4,663 19	221,7.0 37

The grand totals from these points are as follows:

New York	$6,677,097 20
St. Louis	4,338,756 86
Chicago	8,185,225 67
Cincinnati	6,728 032 98
Philadelphia	2 201 333 12
Baltimore	2,210,127 29

Resignation of Judge Cox.

Concord Register.

Every act of Judge Cox's life is splendid. As a public man he is as pure as the "rivers of waters are pure." As a Judge, no man ever bore the ermine more spotless than did he. As a politician he always manifested the magnificent nobility of true human nature, met the adversary boldly. face to face, and, unlike the demagogue, vaquished him by his powerful use of that power that is recognized as—fair play and justice. "As a gentleman he has no superior." It is with regret that the people of North Carolina see him retire from the judicial bench.

North Carolina College.

Concord Register.

The next annual session of the North Carolina College will commence on the 5th of August. Dr. Bikle and Professors Rahu and Ludwick are the Faculty. Their popularity as instructors will insure a large attendance at that popular institution. It is desirable, however, that as many students as can possibly do so, should be at the college at the opening. The Seminary will open at the same time, under the charge of Prof. Rothrock, whose name is a sufficient guarantee for its being well attended and successful.

A Remarkable Tree.

Monroe Enquirer.

There is a sycamore tree, supposed to be the largest in the county, on the banks of Twelve Mile Creek, in Sandy Ridge Township. It measures 39 feet 5 inches in circumference. The trunk is hollow and has two doors by which entrance can be made, and within the trunk twelve men can stand erect at one time. The first limb measures 11 feet 9 inches in circumference.

Attempt at Jail Breaking.

Monroe Enquirer.

Eight colored persons, all in one room, attempted to break out of the jail in this place on last Sunday evening, and had they not been discovered by Deputy Preslar, who was on the lookout, they would have made good their escape as soon as dark came on. The leader in the attempt was the notorious Tom Staton, who broke out during Sheriff Hasty's term of office.

OUR GREAT UNKNOWN.

The Distinguished of the Nation Neglected.

New York Times.

A country so young as this ought to be able to remember most of its distinguished men; and yet the majority of Americans are unable to tell whose are the portraits that appear on the bank-notes, drafts, certificates, and postage stamps of the United States. Washington, Jefferson, Franklin, Jackson, Webster, and some others are recognized by their striking personality of appearance; but the features of Hamilton, Madison, Monroe, John Jay, and dozens of our prominent countrymen are not known to the mass of people. Remembrance is one of the first and mildest forms of gratitude, and our inability or unwillingness to remember our great men may corroborate the trite aphorism that republics are ungrateful. The kind of fame which is chiefly preserved in miniatures upon Government certificates and promises to pay seems somewhat incomplete and unsubstantial and not designed surely to stimulate self-love. Perhaps we might say of many men of the present day, who flatter themselves that they shall live in history, that all their immortality will be confined to a postage stamp; and in so saying we should probably over-state the fact. But yet, not a few of the "eminent statesmen" who imagine themselves secure of conspicuous places in the Valhalla of the nation have no reason to aspire even to postage-stamp renown.

TEMPTING THE UNWARY.

Wicked Devices of the Sons of Gotham.

New York Times.

There aremany ways of getting a living a great city which one would never think of if one did not see them announced by placards and sign boards. It is curious to walk the streets in certain quarters and read the announcements over shop doors and in shop windows. Far up town is an old fashioned, tumble-down wooden house for the sale of pet animals, and a sign informs the public that "sick dogs are medically attended by the week or month." A bird fancier in Broadway apprises his patrons that he takes "birds to board." In a cross street on the East Side we learn where "dogs' ears and tails are cut in the latest fashion." An out-of-the way tradesman advertises that he buys "cigar stumps at the highest market price." An eccentric person in the same neighborhood "educates cross dogs to be gentle and well behaved." Ladies' and gentlemen's feet and hands are professionally and artistically treated by the job or season," in an upper apartment not far from Broadway. "Young ladies are invited to "come in and learn the name and calling of their husbands," in a neighborhood that looks anything but reputable.

"Round shouldered persons made straight" is another announcement in the Bowery, and in the same thoroughfare, "Perfect grace is taught in 12 lessons, and satisfaction guaranteed." "Sore eyes in poodles effectually cured," is a bit of valuable information that comes from East Broadway. Ladies deficient in wardrobe are fashionably dressed very cheap by the month or year," in Catharine street; and in Division street "Babies or children are hired or exchanged." In Sixth avenue, "First class funerals are thoroughly equipped," and not far from Tompkins square, "Country theatres are supplied with every necessary." "False noses as good as new, and warranted to fit," reads a placard in a region where it is probably the fate of residents to have their noses bitten off during amiable discussions with their neighbors. "Marriage certificates are furnished at once in Elizabeth" [illegible] painted over a door in Division street. "black eyes are [illegible] places "dress coats are furnished at reasonable rates," and trustworthy information given as to lucky lottery tickets." If one-half of all the announcements made here were true, no woman in New York would need to be other than graceful, beautiful and accomplished, possessed of fortune and happiness, and every man might be rich, gifted, healthy, vigorous, celebrated, and imperishable. What a new paradise Manhattan would be, if advertisements could be strictly depended on!

A Sharp Game.

Just now the merchants and bankers of San Francisco are making their exchange out of the national treasury. The way in which they make "a nice thing" out of the government is described in the San Francisco Chronicle of the seventeenth as follows:

Ordinarily, at this season of the year, before the wheat crop comes to market in large quantities and furnishes exchange, our indebtedness to the East and to Europe for goods imported is settled by the remittance of gold to New York in considerable amounts. This year the amount of gold sent overland from July 1 to July 15 is only $30,736, against $1,626,300 for the corresponding period last season, and this departure from the ordinary course of trade is accounted for by the existence of silver certificates. It cost about ½ per cent to send gold by express. It costs little to send silver certificates, and as these are available for payment of custom duties in New York, and can consequently be disposed of at par or a fraction below par in cold, our bankers are sending them instead of gold, and so saving the transportation charges. In stipulating that purchase of silver would be paid for only in silver standard dollars, the treasury officials thought, perhaps, that they would succeed in forcing these into use but they have signally failed.

Party Organization.

Wilson Advance.

It is almost impossible to estimate the great benefit that has occured to to the people of North Carolina by party organization. No intelligent man will contend that our State or county would be to-day redeemed from the curse of Radical rule, if there had been no organization. All must admit that we are indebted to organization for the blessings of good government we now enjoy. And still we hear every day of men professing to be good Democrats and good citizens playing the part of disorganizers from some motive of selfishness or prejudice This is all wrong, these gentlemen know they are doing wrong, and when they advise others to follow their example they commit a double wrong.

Well Explained.

In the Blue Ridge Blade, an enquirer makes the query:

"Who wrote the line: "Charge, Chester, Charge. On Stanley, on?"

And gets this answer:

"Wasn't written. Spoken under following circumstances: Chester was a hotel keeper and Stanley was servant to a lightning-rod man. Hotel keeper asks for his bill and rod man says, "Charge, Chester, Charge," and, as the hotel man appears in the door with his shot gun, yells to his driver, "On Stanley, on." Of course they were his last words. D'ye see?"

NEW CIVIL SERVICE.

Cold Tea Cabinet Meeting--Night-Cap Civil Service Reform--An Astounded Crowd--A Cleaned Sweep Proposed.

New York Times.

At the first meeting of the Cabinet after the removal of Collector Arthur, it was noticed that the President was what may be called thoughtful. He drank his cold tea with a preoccupied air, and delayed for some time to call the meeting to order. Finally he roused himself, and requesting the attention of the Cabinet, remarked: "I wish, gentlemen, to lay before you a subject which has been on my mind."

MAKING MERRY AT CONKLING.

Here Mr. Evarts' laughed sardonically, but in reply to the grieved and surprised look of the President, hastened to say that he was thinking how disgusted Mr. Conkling would be when Mr. Fenton should begin to reorganize the Custom-house. Appeased by this explanation, the President continued: "that subject is the necessity of a thorough reform of the civil service. We have done something in that direction, but we must do more. Now that Governor Fenton, who is one of the most simpleminded, conscientious men I have ever met, is anxious to assist me, I think that we can really accomplish civil service reform from Maine to Texas."

NO DIFFICULTY IN THE WAY OF REFORM.

"If your Honor please," said Mr. Evarts, "there seems to be very little difficulty in the way. Turn out all the bad men and fill their places with good men. That is all that is necessary." "Brother Evarts," replied the President, "where are we to find the good men? My private secretary's list shows that there are remaining but seventeen more in the State of Ohio who approve of my Administration and have not yet been appointed to office. We can use this material, so far as it goes, but what are we to do afterward? The trouble is that the volume of good men in this country is not commensurate with the number of offices."

NIGHT-CAP REFORM.

"I understaud," continued the President, blushing, "that a ribald and wicked press asserts that there is a lack of vigor and sincerity in this Administration. For my own part, I read no paper except the Sunday School Advocate, but nevertheless, I am told that such is the tone of the unregenerate press. Now, a vigorous measure of reform would silence these libelers, and I therefore suggest that an order be issued requiring every Government officer to wear a night cap.

BROAD DISCRETION IN THE MATTER.

"Night-cap!" repeated Mr. Schurz, with a bewildered expression. "I do not comprehend you, Mr. President." "I have found," pursued Mr. Hayes, "that wearing a night-cap restrains the excessive action of the brain. If I were to sleep without a night-cap, my brain would go on working incessantly, and a serious weakening of mental power [illegible] and reinvigorated. Now, if every officeholder were to wear a night-cap he would preserve his energies unimpaired for the public service. If we issue an order to that effect, we shall accomplish a reform that will be of inestimable service to the whole country, from Maine to—. Excuse me, Mr. Sherman, but profanity is shocking to my feelings, and I must beg you to restrain yourself, even if the flies are, as you say, exceeding troublesome. I forgot to say that I would allow a broad liberty in the matter of frills and strings. For myself, I prefer blue ribbon, as it suits my complexion, but I should be willing to permit every office-holder to please himself in such minor matters as the pattern and ornaments of his night-cap."

PROPOSITION NOT CARRIED.

This novel proposal was received in silence. That it was the outline of a new and magnificent policy was undeniable, but the cabinet was not yet ripe for it. When the question of its adoption was put to vote, the President alone voted for it. Of course, he was disappointed, but he submitted gracefully to the decision of his advisers, and remarking that at some future day he might, perhaps, bring up the subject again, proceeded to lay another scheme of reform before the Cabinet.

PROPOSED CLEAN SWEEP.

"There is still another way in which we can combine civil service reform with energy and sincerity. Any President can remove incompetent and unworthy officers. To remove good officers without apparent cause requires a great deal of energy. Now, I propose to give this administration a reputation for unequaled energy and sincerity by removing every honest and capable officer in its service, beginning with the members of the Cabinet. I flatter myself that no one will deny that this is an original policy. Its success in the case of Collector Arthur has been already manifested, and if it is unflinchingly carried out, the ribald press can no longer have the assurance to call the administration weak and insincere."

The excitement created by this proposal was startling. Mr. Evarts, advancing his right forefinger, requested his Honor to note his exception; Mr. Thompson said that if he was removed, he should understand that the President had been captured by the Jesuits. Mr. Schurz asserted with much irritation that the President's plan was "incomprehensible," and Mr. Sherman made a few indistinct exclamations, which were understood to be a virtual denial of Col. Bob Ingersoll's doctrine concerning the non-existence of a place of future punishment. As for the rest of the members of the Cabinet, they unanimously exclaimed that it wouldn't do, and that they should appeal to Congress to enforce the Tenure of Office act. The meeting broke up without coming to any formal decision, but it is believed that the President will enforce his policy in the face of all opposition.

Russian Official Routine.

New York Tribune.

A story is current in Moscow, apropos of Russian official routine, which whether literally true or not, certainly illustrates to perfection the character of the prevailing system. An operatic star of some note, connected with one of the principal Moscow theatres, wishing to make a short excursion into the country, went to get her passport countersigned by the local authorities. The presiding official received her politely, and, having learned her business, inquired for her "written petition." "My written petition!" cried the lady, "I have none; I never knew that anything of the kind was required." "Not required, Madam? on the contrary, nothing can be done without it." "What am I to do then?" "Nothing easier; be good enough to take this sheet of paper, and write according to my dictation." The applicant obeyed, and transcribed word for word a formal petition requesting leave of absence from the city for a stated time, which was then duly signed, folded, and sealed. "And now," quoth the man in office, "you have only to deliver it." "To whom, pray?" "To whom?" echoed the official, with a slight smile at the absurdity of the question; "to me, of course." The document was accordingly handed across the table. The great man adjusted his spectacles, broke the seal, gravely read over his own composition from beginning to end, folded and docketed it with methodical slowness, and then, turning to the impatient artiste, said, with an air of official solemnity. "Madam, I have read your petition and regret to tell you that I am unable to grant it."

The Business Depression.

The New York Times, in the course of an article on over-production, says:

Now, it is a fact that, through the effects of the destruction of wealth by the war, the sudden restoration of interrupted markets at its close, the use of a depreciated and superabundant, currency and an extension of the credit system, we were engaged for some years in a rate of production of almost everything but agricultural produce and raw materials, which could not be kept up for lack of a market to carry off the results at prices which would reimburse the cost. When the effective demand fell off, as it was destined to do, we found we had built mills and workshops, had established extravagant modes of conducting business, had reached a level of prices which could not be maintained. We have not too much wealth in the country, but it has cost those who have it more than anybody is willing or able to give them for it. They cannot go on producing wealth without its still costing more in many cases than it will bring. Hence, they cease to produce, or do it on a small scale, and people are out of work. Business is depressed because production is thus clogged, and the demand has not come up to the supply, so as to offer remunerative prices for goods. The cure is not to be found in more currency or less currency in amount, but in the recovery of the equilibrium of demand and supply—by the working up of the one and the working down of the other—and then, to secure permanency in the equilibrium and a healthy progress in the future, we must restore stability to the currency and conservative and economical principles in the conduct of business.

Horrors of the Famine in China.

It is estimated that in the famine-stricken districts of China the population has been reduced over 5,000,000 by actual starvation, and the prospect continues as gloomy as at the beginning. An idea of the isoslation and suffering may be gathered from the official report of [illegible] the Peking Gazette. Proof of distress the living fed upon the bodies of the dead, next the strong devoured the weak, and now the general destitution has arrived at such a climax that men devour those of their own flesh and blood. History contains no record of so terrible and distressing a state of things, and if promt measures of relief be not instituted the whole region must become depopulated. Local sources of supply must become exhausted; the granaries are empty and the treasury drained dry; while the few wealthy people in the provinces have helped with contributions and loans till they themselves are impoverished."

Vegetine.

This celebrated blood purifying remedy has long been recognized by the physicians in the North and East for its very remarkable curative properties, and is universally used in their private practice. Vegetine contains no minerals, but is a purely vegetable remedy, and strengthens and invigorates the system in a manner that astonishes all who have either tried it themselves or seen its effects upon others. Scrofula of twenty-five years standing, and pronounced by scientific physicians hopelessly incurable, has disappeared after Vegetine has been used but a short time, and the worst ulcers and running sores, have been cured by the use of a few bottles. Dr. H. R. Stevens, of Boston, Mass., the proprietor of this wonderful medicine, has thousands and thousands of letters, all testifying to its virtues, and from parties who can be communicated with, should any one so desire. We publish a few certificates in another column. *

To Carpenters and Builders.

If you are needing anything in the way of edge tools or builders hardware, of any kind, we would advise you to call at J. C. Brewster's hardware house, where you can find a splendid stock of goods in this line, and at prices to suit the scarcity of money. All tools sold are fully warranted. He will contract for roofing at prices which will enable you to put in your bids (where there is any tin work to be done) lower than ever, giving you an opportunity to use tin in place of shingles.

He uses nothing except the best material. J. C. BREWSTER,

Something Worth Attention.

Consigners of county produce should ship to A. C. Sanders & Co., because they are the only commission merchants in Raleigh. They do not buy at all on their own account, but make prompt returns, at the same prices they sell at which are the highest this market, affords. *

A Big Indian War.

It is the opinion of those high in authority that an Indian war on a very large scale this summer is inevitable, and it is the avowed opinion of those who have used Barham's Infallible Pile Cure that it will positively cure Hemorrhoids or Piles. Try a box and be made happy. Manufactured by the Barham Pile Cure Co., Durham, N. C. *

Call at Once.

Only a few barrels of those fresh mullets left at W. A. Myatt's; supply yourselves before thay are all sold.

CABARRUS COUNTY.

A National That is Doomed to Defeat.

Correspondence of the News.

CONCORD, July 27.

Orchard reappears in the field to-day, in opposition to Odell. He plants himself squarely upon the "National platform," and in opposition to Democracy.

He expects the solid Republican vote, and some dissatisfied Democrats.

HIS DEFEAT IS CERTAIN,

though it is pleasing to observe the smile of Radical leaders. They love a Democratic disorganizer better than one of their own party.

Hydrophobia in Gaston.

Correspondence of the News.

Andrew Elmon, a young man residing in South Point township, this county, was bitten on the left wrist some three weeks ago by a dog. The dog sometime after, exhibiting symptoms of hydrophobia, was killed. Two boys, which were bitten by the same dog, in the neighborhood of Limburger factory, went mad and were killed. Several dogs were also bitten, all of which have been killed by their owners without waiting for evidences of the disease. Mr. Elmon has lately been attending a writing school in the neighborhood, and last Tuesday went to the spring for water. His wrist and arm giving him some pain, he drenched the arm with water, and was immediately convulsed with pain, and suffered acutely from pains in his arm, neck and head until the next morning. Dr. Hunter, the physician who was called in, says all his symptoms indicate the dread disease, hydrophobia. The report from the young man this morning is favorable. He is not suffering any pain, and the wound is entirely healed over.

KEEPING GRAPES IN WATER.—As the practice of keeping grapes in the fruit room with the stalks inserted in the bottles filled with water, and suspended from the roof has now become general, it is very important to diaect attention to the fact that the stem must be inserted, in the water immediately after it is severed from the vine, and also that the end of the shoot must be shortened. When the branches are not at once inserted in the water the stalks will soon become brawn and the berries shrivel. Also, if the end of the branches is shortened for the purpose of giving a neater appearance to the bushes when suspended in the fruit room, the grapes will soon begin to shrivel and if not used within a short space of time, will be of little servlce. Last winter I saw in the garden of an amateur a very splendid lot of grapes which were very nearly spoiled through that portion of the wood above the bunch being removed.—Gardener's Magazine.

Ashore near Fort Caswell.

By Telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The signal service station of Smithville, N. C., reports from the Spanish Bark Antwerp with a cargo of rosin, is ashore in a critical position near Fort Caswell. She is full of water. She is now engaged in discharging the cargo. Steam tugs here are unable to get her off. The Baker wrecking company, at Norfolk, were notified, and promised to send immediate relief. They are exchanging international signals with the Brig whenever necessary. No lives are in danger.

Bogardus Again Beats.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, July 29—Bogardus shot a pigeon match to-day with Capt Shelley of the Nottinghill Gun Club, 200 rounds each to shoot a hundred birds at thirty yards rise. Shelly retired at the eighty-ninth bird, having killed only 64, while Bogardus killed 77. The latter continued and killed 84 out of one hundred birds.

The Eclipse

WASHINGTON, July 29—General Prior telegraphs from Pikecs Peak: "Observations of eclipse successful. Corona traced several dimeters from the sun and seen five minutes after totality."

Failed to Find It.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, July, 29—The Anglo American Cable Company announces that the attempt to recover the 1866 cable failed.

It was a Boston belle, just back from Europe, who said of Switzerland: "Pretty place, but it struck me there were too many lakes and too few young men."

Mistress to maid, who is trying to rid visitors' chamber of fleas: "You goose! Killing fleas in the visitors' room, when we counted upon them to drive our friends away!"

The Austin Reveille tells this without shame: "The face of nature is covered with red ants, which explains why so many ladies at the picnic today, made a grab at their stockings and said 'Ouch!'"

A Gough pretender has arisen. He is a fluent speaker, and took several Missouri towns by storm until some one shouted the other night: "That fellow is Gough in your eye; pull him down."

The widow of Henry Timrod, war poet of South Carolina, has been warmly recommended for an office in the Hostal Department by Governor Wade Hampton. Timrod's ballads were very popular in the South.

A red-headed, freckled stage-driver, named Edward Griffin, distanced all the heroes of fiction the other day by eloping with and marrying a Brooklyn heiress (worth $100,000 or so), she possessing good looks as well as cash.

A young woman, evidently from the country, was seen standing with a very perplexed air at one of the lamp-post letter boxes. She was observed to knock several times on thr top of iron box, and obtaining no response she passed to the opposite side, and, raising the cover of the slit in which the letters are placed, applied her mouth to the aperture and called out (or in) "Can yet let me have a postage stamp, if you please."

Receiving to-day, July 23d, one car load fine oats, will sell them cheap to close consignment, and receiving every week shipments of mullets, direct from the fisheries, and am prepared to fill orders for large or small quantities as low as the lowest. D. T. JOHNSON,

Congressional Convention.

A Convention of the Democrats and Conservatives of the Fourth District, will be held in the city of Raleigh, on Thursday the 22nd day of August next, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress. Each county will be entitled to ... part over ... ten votes.

By order of District Ex. Committee,
H. A. LONDON, Jr.
Chairman.

July 2, 1878.

The Democratic papers in the District will please copy.

Money for investment in property and enterprises, and not for absorption in interest bearing bonds, is one of the calls of the Nationals upon the people.

The organ of the National party, the New York Advocate, claims now a circulation of six hundred thousand in the United States, and says it will have a million by October, after which the subscription price will be fifty cents a year.

The National movement will have the tendency to quicken the Democracy into a more aggressive financial policy. And with the National Banks annihilated, the United States bonds all called in and paid off with greenbacks, the money of the capital will seek industrial investment, and the National rate of interest be fixed at 3.65 per cent.

The retirement of the National Bank circulation and the issue by the government of United States Treasury notes for all the purposes of the people; the payment of all dues to the government to be in greenbacks, and the immediate redemption of all outstanding United States bonds by calling in and paying them in greenbacks is a feature of the financial policy of the National party.

It was investment of all the surplus capital of the South in slaves that kept down all manufacturing enterprise and development in the Southern States before the war. United States bonds are now to the whole country what slavery was to the South. Paying off the bonds in greenbacks now will be to the bondholders what compensated emancipation would have been to the slaveholder. Resist the logic of events, and and repudiation of the United States bonds will come like Lincoln's proclamation, emancipating the slaves of the South.

Democrats should not allow themselves to be allured away from the organization of a party whose principles have been the mainstay of the government in every crisis from the days of the revolution, by the glittering generalities of the Nationals. As a greenback party the Democracy is not a step behind the declarations of the Nationals, and has only awaited the hour of its control of Congress, to secure the financial legislation which the people of the whole country have so demanded, but which the Republican party, controlled and subsidized by the monopolists and money hoarders, has opposed and prevented.

Had not Sam Tilden, August Belmont, the New York World and other bullionists aided the Republicans of Ohio to defeat old Bill Allen for Governor in 1875, there had been no National party, no President Hayes or Secretary Sherman. The Democratic party would have been recognized by all as the greenback party of the country, and, with the support of the masses it would to-day be in control of the government, and the condition of the country far different. Personally to him, the success of Hayes in securing the Presidency was retributive justice to Tilden, and he wanders about the victim of disappointed ambition and impotent resentment, without the sympathy, scarcely, of a Democrat in all the land.

Raleigh District Conference.

The pressure of these times of piping politics excluded the News reports of the Methodist District Conference held last week at Franklinton.

Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, D. D., of Greensboro, was the Presiding Elder, assisted by Rev. W. S. Black, of Raleigh. Donald W. Bain. Esq., of Raleigh, and Geo. S. Baker, Esq., of Louisburg, were the Secretaries. The usual routine business was transacted, and delegates appointed to the next General Conference, which meets at Charlotte in November. All the circuits of the District were represented by their pastors and lay delegates.

Rev. J. A. Cunningham, agent of Greensboro Female College, addressed the conference respecting the status and prospects of that Institution, which are found to be highly satisfactory and encouraging. Rev. W. C. Doub, the newly elected President of Louisburg Female College, formally accepted the position, and urged the co-operation of friends of that Institution.

The next District Conference will be held at Trinity, in Franklin. The conference adjourned with many appreciations of the generous hospitality of the Franklintonians.

Fairly Warned.

No coming event is more plainly foreshadowed than the fact that Senator Merrimon is going to run for re-election by disorganizing the party to which he professes allegiance. Again and again has the question been put to him and his supporters. "Will Senator Merrimon abide by the decision of the majority as expressed in caucus?"—and not the semblance of an answer has yet been had.

Every Radical candidate in the State, with perhaps one exception, who has spoken at all on the subject, has declared for Merrimon, and a large majority of the so-called Independents have been brought out by the instigation of his friends.

Take these circumstances in connection with the refusal of himself and friends to answer questions, and the bold defiance of party organization contained in his card, and the conclusion is irresistible that he intends again to seek promotion at the cost of the disruption and ruin of his party.

One is justified then in charging ing until he denies it, that he is in open that he prefers his own interest to the good of his country as subserved by that party, and that his action is paving the way for the restoration of Radicalism in North Carolina.

To all appearances, a regular conspiracy exists between the Merrimon men and the Radicals, to make a majority in the Legislature composed of Radicals and Independents, with common and interchangeable interests, based on the election of Senator. Perhaps they will deny this; but they will not deny that Merrimon is going to run against the caucus nominee. Will they?

All Democrats who believe their party is worth preserving, are warned that it must be preserved at the polls, that it can only be safe to vote for men who agree to abide the will of the majority expressed in the usual way.

The National Party.

Whatever may be its ultimate destiny there can be no question that what is termed the National Greenback Labor movement is making strong headway in the United States.

The National is a party conceived in the spirit of political unrest, and it is born amid the throes of a nation in financial despair and industrial distress. It comes at an era of enforced idleness and consequent suffering among the working classes—an era in which monopoly rules, when money combinations have absorbed the resources of the country and dried up the fountains of the people's subsistence.

The sentiment of the masses of the people is therefore ripe for the movement, and it is one that the monopolists and bullionists of the North cannot laugh down, or drown with ridicule. The discontented and morbid public mind embraces this as the opportunity for relief, and as a means whereby to force a better state of things, laboring under the sullen conviction that the condition of the masses cannot be worsted. The sudden dawning of an era of prosperity, one in which every idle mechanic, factory employee and day laborer should find work at good wages, would dissipate the National party, and nothing more would be heard of it. But no such era dawns, or is likely to at an early day, and meanwhile the suffering of the unemployed and business classes intensifies, and the public condition grows worse. And therefore the National party grows daily stronger.

Some of the features of this movement are to be deplored. It smacks much of communism, and it is to be feared that it is not in the hands and will not be under the control of wise and prudent men whose desire for the public good, and whose appreciation and comprehension of public affairs will enable them to give direction to a popular movement that shall not bring it into collision with the best conservative interests of the country. The projectors of this new party are not sufficiently known to fame to inspire public confidence in their capacity for safe leaders of the people, and the apprehension is that this party will present itself as an uncontrollable, inhomogeneous political mob, rather than a well-officered party of defined principles and issues, with a specific object in view and striving for the accomplishment of some great and beneficent public end.

The attention of political leaders and all public thinking men cannot be too constantly and earnestly directed to the National movement. It assumes importance in the political features of the country, and is significant of events in the near future. The Nationals claim, with a show of reason, that they and their intimate sympathizers will hold the balance of power in the next House of Representatives, and thereby be able to influence the legislation of Congress touching those matters which they have placed at issue, and if in the first year of its existence the National party shall acquire the balance of power in Congress, its growth and influence are to be seriously considered in connection with the Congressional, State and National elections of 1880.

The declared objects and purposes of the National party are not hostile to the principles enunciated in the platform of the Democracy, and there can not be that antagonism between the Democratic and National parties as with the latter and the Republican, which is responsible for the legislation and laws of finance in opposition to which the National party has been organized. Therefore, in any event of the success of the National organization, it must be an ally of the Democratic party, as against the common enemy of good government and free mankind—the Republican party.

The Temperature.

Temperature yesterday, as indicated by the thermometer at Tucker's store:

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Register.

——The cheapest, best advice now is, Register.

——Only two more days in which to Register.

——The State Treasurer has issued a drummer's license to Jacob Alder & Co., Baltimore.

——If Democrats fail to Register, they will have to reproach themselves if the Radicals carry the county.

——The corner lot where the old McKee house stood is being cleared for the erection of a frame office. Is this not in the fire limits?

——Owners of umbrellas had the pleasure of having those useful articles pretty badly mixed at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday evening.

——Gov. Vance delivers his address on "The Scattered Nation" at the Court House in Morganton to-day, for the benefit of the Presbyterian church.

——The condition of Blinson, the man who was stabbed at Eagle Rock last week, is so much improved that the physicians think him out of danger.

——The negroes are reported as remarkable for promptness in registering, not one failing to come to time. The Republicans always poll their full strength. Democrats, remember this, and don't forget to Register.

——The trying heat yesterday was owing to the great humidity of the atmosphere. It was one of the most disagreeable days of the season. A severe thunder storm may be looked for, even if Old Prob. doesn't prognosticate to that effect.

Dr. Vaughn's Farewell.

Despite the rain, the farewell sermon of Rev. C. R. Vaughn, D. D., at the First Presbyterian Church, attracted a large audience. The reverend gentleman took as his text the 11th verse of the 13th chapter of the 2d Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians—"Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you."

The discourse was an exceedingly able one. In the course of his remarks, Dr. Vaughn thanked his congregation for their many courtesies and kindnesses.

Last evening he bade farewell to his many friends, taking the train for his home in Charlotte county, Virginia. It is earnestly hoped that a brief surcease of labor may have a happy effect in improving Dr. Vaughn's health.

Religious Notes.

Rev. T. H. Pritchard, D. D., left for Hickory yesterday afternoon. He intends remaining there two weeks, and during such stay will conduct a religious meeting. His pulpit at the Salisbury Street Baptist Church will be occupied next Sunday in the morning by Rev. David Shaver, of Atlanta, Ga., and in the evening by Rev. Charles Farriss, jr., of this city, who studied for the ministry at Wake Forest College.

Amateurs.

A number of young men here propose getting up an amateur theatrical company, or rather concert troupe, and will give a performance at an early day. There is quite an amount of local talent here, and the services of Prof. Baker, of New Berne, as leader of the orchestra, will be secured.

Criminal Matters.

Jacob Moore, col., got in a fit of passion at his residence near the old Fair Grounds, on Sunday, and while in such state struck his wife such a blow as to almost sever the connection between her eye and head. The assaulter was arraigned before Justice Whitaker and required to give bond in the sum of $50, for his appearance at the next term of criminal court.

Mayor's Court.

The levee yesterday was numerously attended. Three of the callers were charged with being drunk and down, and each got a sentence of 12 hours in the guard house.

Two young men were arraigned for an affray on Saturday night, were fined, the former $5 and costs, and the latter $1 and costs.

Republican Speaking.

James H. Harris, colored, will this evening speak at Metropolitan Hall, on the issues of the present campaign. The exercises begins at 8:30.

The Eclipse.

Smoked glasses were pressed into requisition yesterday, the foretold partial eclipse of old sol having the effect of putting every gamin even on the alert. The streets and windows were filled with gazers, eagerly watching for the coming phenomenon. At 4 42 the moon's shadow first obscured the sun's disk. The process of obscuration went steadily on, until at 5.12 the powerful luminary fast paled and grew less fierce as to its rays, its surface being then half covered. The towering, angry looking masses of clouds that reared high in the sky and oft obscured the view of the bodies, but added to the grandeur of the scene.

Slowly the shadow then passed off, the point of greatest obscuration passed. The sun seemed though to have lost much of its fierceness, the rays which reached the earth were more tempered, and a pleasant coolness, particularly agreeable after the enervating heats of the day, was felt.

At 6.15 the moon's form passed off the sun and full orbed he shone again. The light paled considerably at the time of greatest obscuration, and to some extent all things visible took on that weird look so noticeable during these phenomena. The times of the transit of the shadow of the moon are only approximated.

The shadow of the moon first struck the earth in Asia, in latitude 55° North, longitude 165° West. It then moved toward and across Behring Straits, passed through Alaska and British America, entering the United Stated just at the north-west extremity of Montana. Thence it passed through Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, (totality at Denver, 3:27 P. M.,) Indian Territory, and Northern and Eastern Texas, leaving the United States near the boundary line between Louisiana and Texas. Lastly, sweeping over the Gulf of Mexico and the western extremity of Cuba, it ended in the Caribbean Sea off the south-eastern coast of San Domingo, about sunset. The width of the dark shadow—the diameter of the cone of the umbra cast by the moon—was about 116 miles. As a partial eclipse, the phenomenon was of course, visible all over the United States. From the Nautical Almanac calculations, Prof. S. B. Langley has found the approximate time of the beginning and the ending of the eclipse in some of the principal cities of the country to have been as follows:—New York, 4:47—6:33; Philadelphia, 4:33—6:31; Baltimore, 4:38—4:26; Cincinnati, 3:58—6:02; Chicago, 3:42—5:41; Pittsburg, 4:20—6:12; New Orleans, 3:51—5:52; San Francisco, 12:52—3:17.

Never before were preparations so elaborately made to observe an eclipse, parties of scientists having occupied stations of observation all over the country in the path of totality.

Brought In.

Yesterday morning a horse was stolen from the farm of Mr. Richard Hayes, who lives on the road to Auburn. The thief was pursued by Mr. Whitaker and Mr. Barnhill, both neighbors of Mr. Hayes. These pursuers finally came up with their man at Auburn. He proved to be John Dancy. The horse was at the same time recovered. Putting their prisoner in a spring wagon the captors brought him into the city. He made no special resistance until on reaching Cabarrus street on their way up Fayetteville, he leaped from the wagon, intending to escape. But he was foiled in the attempt, for Mr. Whitaker seized him by his coat-tails and held him fast. Both finally got hold of him, and then sent to police headquarters for aid. An officer soon arrived, and after a struggle of some length, of which over an hundred able-bodied citizens were deeply interested spectators, took Dancy to the guard house, where he was snugly stowed away for safe keeping until to-day at 10 a. m., when he will be tried by Mayor Mauly. The captive was escorted to the guard house by a large procession, eager for such a delightful sensation.

Supreme Court.

Court met at 9 o'clock on Saturday, all the Justices present.

Call of appeals at the end of the docket was resumed.

David P. Adams vs. W. H. Thomas et. als., from Jackson; continued.

Louis La Fountain et. als. vs. Southern Underwriters' Association, from Wake; argued for the plaintiffs by J. W. Hinsdale and R. G. Lewis, and for the defendant by Merrimon, Fuller & Ashe and R. C. Badger.

W. H. McRary, Guardian, vs. R. H. & W. H. Smith et. als., from Halifax; (2 cases) argued for the plaintiff by R. O. Burton, Junior, and for the defendants by T. H. Hill, Busbee & Busbee and Kitchin & Dunn.

Pending the argument in the last case, the court adjourned until to-day (Tuesday) at 9 o'clock.

The Blessing of the Rain.

The showers of Saturday night and Sunday were of incalculable benefit. They did not, however, extend more than a mile west of the city, and that portion of the county yet suffers from one of the severest drouths in years. It is to be hoped that the people of Pine Level are blessed with rains, as their commendable devoutness certainly merited a reward. It will be remembered that, suffering from the dry weather, they prayed all day for rain.

The Long Branch of the South.

Smithville, the watering place near Wilmington, has received the above appellation. Those wishing to revel in its manifold delights will have a choice opportunity to do so on Friday next. An excursion train will leave points on the W. & W. Railway, and tickets will be good 10 days. The fare from Goldsboro, round trip, is $2.75. The steamer Passport will take the excursionists from Wilmington to Smithville.

Riot at a Speaking.

At the speaking at Cobb's store, Pitt county, a difficulty arose between a large party of whites and blacks. Weapons of all kinds were freely used. In the melee a number of persons, of both colors, were badly beaten. The affair reached its climax upon the killing of a negro by a bullet from a revolver. After this things were rather quieter, and the crowd dispersed. The cause of the unfortunate affair is not stated.

Archibald McCrimmon Wanted.

Mrs. Sarah McCrimmon, in care of Norman McLeod, No. 48 South Green street, Chicago, desires to learn the whereabouts of her brother, Archibald McCrimmon, who resides somewhere in North Carolina, having immigrated from Inverness-Shire, Scotland, or any of his children, if he be dead. She writes to the Governor of North Carolina, and requests him to ask the State papers to make a notice for her, and they are requested to copy this. The proper address of the lady is given above.

Sunday's Storms.

Several parts of the State were visited by severe storms of lightning on Sunday. At Kinston a bolt struck a drug store, scattering bottled death in all directions.

Mr. L. B. Turner lost two horses, killed and terribly mangled, while standing in a stable. The storm raged in wild fury for nearly an hour.

The South Atlantic.

One of the very best of periodicals, this monthly comes to us more than usaully freighted with matter both pleasant and profitable. Peculiarly Southern in its character, and numbering among its contributors some of the best and most vigorous writers in the country, it bears upon its face the stamp of originality and force. The interest of its serial stories has never ceased, while the shorter, casual articles have been marked by a vigor peculiarly their own. All topics are discussed, and thus the world's progress is closely followed. The magazine has from its inception been received with peculiar favor by North Carolinians, nor have its merits failed to receive just encomiums from persons of ability everywhere.

The last number, that for August, keeps up the reputation of its predecessors. The article on the "Mineral Wealth of North Carolina," by the State Geologist, Prof. W. C. Kerr, is characterized by peculiar interest and ability. Dr. Samuel Mendelsohn, Rabbi of the Jewish Synagogue in Wilmington, on the "Talmud," is of great interest, and a paper showing special research on the part of its author. Among the lighter reading the chapters of "James Galt," by the talented James Barron Hope, are specially choice. Nor are these the only articles of merit, for the number is brimful.

Mrs. Cicero W. Harris, under whose management the "South Atlantic" appears, is a lady of great culture and rare business tact, and the impress of her vigorous mind is shown upon the magazine. This and all future issues should be read by our people, that it may be seen what Carolinian vigor and intellect can do.

The Discussion at Auburn.

This lovely village was the scene of the canvass yesterday. The excursion train carried numbers from the city, and these were reinforced by the crowd present. The discussion was opened by Maj. Bledsoe, who was followed by Geo. H. Snow, Esq., in a speech vigorous and pointed. The people of that section were enlightened as to the past, present and future of Radicalism. Col. Jno McDonald was the next speaker.

Judge Bunting opened the ball on the part of the candidates for the House. He poured in a withering fire on Magnin. H. C. Olive, Esq. then spoke, followed by Stewart Ellison. Next Dr. Richardson took the staud, followed by Mr. Magnin, who returned the compliments paid him by Mr. Bunting. A most earnest speech was made by E. R. Stamps, Esq., with good effect.

The day and its exercises were probably the most enjoyable of the campaign. The large crowd present were orderly to the last degree, and the day will long be remembered by the throng of listeners. Some few indulged in athletic exercises, such as running away from some one with a club. Such a party, when he came up with his playmates would tap their craniums in an amusing manner. The colored people behaving in fine style.

Milestones on the Road, Health.

The recovery of digestion and the resumption of activity by the liver, bowels and kidneys are milestones which mark our progress on the road to health. They speedily become perceptible when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is used by the invalid. Nothing so surely and expeditiously consumes the distance to the desired goal. As no bodily function can suffer interruption without impairing the general health of the system, so the system can never acquire perfect vigor health's synonym, until that function be actively resumed. Take, for instance, digestion, a suspension of which is invariably rectified by the Bitters. If the organs upon which it devolves grow weak, billiousness, constipation, headache, poverty of the blood and a hundred other symptoms supervene, which indicate unmistakably the baneful general influence of dyspepsia. The disappearance of all these symptoms through the use of the Bitters shows with what thorness it removes their cause. jy 30 6tdw-

BEAUTY: OR THE
Secret of a Fair Face

AN ITEM OF INTREST TO EVERY LADY WHO DESIRES TO BE MORE BEAUTIFUL THAN SHE NOW IS.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion.

What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish.

It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called

MAGNOLIA BALM

The MAGNOLIA BALM is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion.

It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising and effective manner.

It removes all roughness eruptions, redness blotches, freckles, and tan with magical power.

It drives away all evidences of fatigue and excitement.

It makes the plainest face beautiful.

It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face, and arms appear graceful, rotund, and plump.

It makes a matron of 35 or 40 look not more than 20 years old, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.

The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every drawback to beauty; and while it is as harmless as water, it is so lifelike in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use.

Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty of it by using HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, and we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things considered, and may be had at any drug store.
